

Nigerian rapper Zlatan Ibile and his longtime partner, Davita Lamai, held their traditional wedding ceremony at Whitestone Event Centre, Oniru, Lagos, on Saturday, October 24, 2026.

The star-studded celebration attracted prominent figures from the entertainment industry, including Afrobeats singer Davido, who served as one of the groom's groomsmen.

Other celebrities reportedly in attendance included Iyabo Ojo, Teni, Phyno, Cubana Chief Priest and content creator Enioluwa Adeoluwa.

The ceremony featured striking traditional outfits celebrating the couple's cultural backgrounds. Their first appearance showcased Edo-inspired fashion, with burgundy and cream ensembles complemented by coral beads. They later changed into Yoruba-inspired attire, featuring coordinated outfits in lighter colours.

The wedding followed reports of an earlier private civil ceremony and a bachelor's night celebration at BadHabits Lagos.

The couple, who have two sons together, shared their milestone with family, friends and industry associates under the wedding hashtag #DTTheUnion.